Sioux City and St. Paul Railroad company.

Tucker, of the committee on judiciary, submitted a report upon the case of Hallett & Kibbourne vs. ex-Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson. Referred to the committee on appropriations. The report says: Your committee think it best to let the judgment stand without further litigation and, as the judgment amount thereof in relief of the defendant.

Mitchell, of the committee on civil and other money belonging to Ferdinand Plockner, that was lost or stolen from the latter while at a beer garden. Garrett

While twenty men were unloading a barge at Louisville, it sprang a leak and collapsed before the men could get off, breaking into three pieces. It threw ing up all he had, amounting to several thousand dollars. While the buildings were burning he patrolled the grounds with a shot-gun and would allow no one

Once He Was Rich.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Commodore C.
K. Garrison, who made an assignment today, is well known as being formerly deeply interested in the Pacific Mail, New Orleans and West India Steamship lines and is the largest stockholder in the Profitable Gas company of this city, St. Louis, New Orleans, and other large cities. He was the principal owner of the Missouri Pacific railroad, but sold out a few years ago to Jay Gould. He has been interested latterly in numerous railway schemes. He made the bulk of his fortune prior to the rebellion. Garrison today filed an assignment in the county clerk's office to John T. Terry, with preferences amounting to $631,300.

Melville C. Day, counsel for Garrison, says: "The assignment is made because of financial embarrassment. It was forced upon Garrison by the protest of notes under his endorsement yesterday.
He is a heavy holder of securities and much of his wealth is tied up in these which are almost unmarketable at the present he could not meet liabilities. He has a large number of railroad securities which have shrunk but which are not now in market and value of which cannot be estimated. The assignment is simply for the benefit of his creditors."
The amount involved by the failure of Garrison is supposed to be probably $5,000,000. The preferences amount to $63,150.

Not a Crank.

NEW YORK, June 20.—John Drake, the lawyer who was shot in his office yesterday, has his right shoulder splintered and will probably be compelled to have his arm amputated. The man who shot him is William C. Rhinelauder, and is not considered a crank.
He is related to Drake's family, and is at large. Drake has not made a charge against him. He called at Drake's office yesterday afternoon and was closeted with him some time, when a pistol shot rang out. Mr. Douglass, who occupies the adjoining office, rushed in and saw Drake forcing young Rhinelander against the wall with strength and desperation, and though badly wounded his strength held out to save himself from further harm. In one of Rhinelander's hands was a revolver, and this Douglass seized and helped Drake overpower him.

Prospects of Trouble.

BIRMINGHAM, June 20.—Several important arrests were made yesterday in connection with an incendiary conspiracy, which, it is asserted, has ramifications in America. Should inquiry prove that the German conspirators received funds from America immediate diplomatic action will be taken by the German representative at Washington.

in the construction of the road. The schedule of property attached looks up $40,000.

A Case of Life or Death.

CAIRO, June 20.—The mahdi has again written Mudis Dongula summoning him to espouse his cause. If he acquiesces he will be made governor of the province and allowed to keep all taxes. If he refuses the lieutenant of the Mahdi will kill the Mudir and all belonging to him.

will all go out on a strike on that date.

ing and fine cloths. There is no clew to the thieves.

TURN THE RASCALS OUT

Rheumatism and Neuralgia have reigned supreme since the world knew them. They have tyrannized over all classes of people. They have laughed in the face of the medical profession.

In spite of alkaline treatment, acid treatment, hyperdermic injections, plasters, liniments, and every thing else that the medical faculty could suggest, Rheumatism and Neuralgia have held giant sway.

All that medical skill has been able to do is to give the patient a few moments of relief, and then the terrible malady is to afflict him again.

Mr. Haden, of Fair Haven, Conn., had been tormented by neuralgia for years. He stated that he had tried every remedy that he could find, but nothing would do him any good. He was told that he was a "case," and that he would never be cured.

With marvelous quickness ATROPHOROS cured him. He stated that he had tried every remedy that he could find, but nothing would do him any good. He was told that he was a "case," and that he would never be cured.

FRIDAY, JUNE 20, 1894.

OFFICIAL PAPER COUNTY AND CITY.

It is said the New York Herald has spent $173,000 fighting the newdealers.

The temperance people will be the Indiana scratchers for Mr. Calkins this year.

Col. I. P. GRAY will knock the Calkins out of the Indiana republican craft in November.

That little affair down in Wayne county was the pole with which Calkins knocked the persimmons.

The home industrial schools of New York have sheltered 30,000 children and found country homes for 6,000.

The temperance people will now have a chance to do something for themselves. The republican party has failed to recognize their claims.

The office of Grant & Ward, in Wall street, has at last been closed. We beg leave to suggest that there is a good opening in the tannery business out in Illinois.

Ex-Senator THURMAN, of Ohio, stated in an interview Wednesday that he was not a presidential candidate, and he simply requested the world to leave him alone. We are perfectly willing.

"We cannot think of a democratic ticket with so many strong points in its favor, and to which so few objections could be urged, as that of McDonald and Blount."—Kansas City Star.

Col. A. K. McCLELLAN, editor of the Philadelphia Times, says the late republican convention "proved to every intelligent and unbiased observer that the republican party is dying at the top."

Hon. T. A. HENDERSON positively and firmly declines to be a candidate for governor and says he would not accept the nomination if tendered him. This is final and leaves Mr. Gray still in the lead.

THAT WAS A SORT of a cruel assassination of the Hon. J. P. C. Shanks, at Indianapolis, but Mr. S. has become accustomed to it and like a cat with nine lives, bobs up serenely ready for the next serenade.

It is stated that the friends of General Gresham determined to present his name as a candidate for governor yesterday. But Gresham's name was not presented and it is now presumed that Banny Harrison does not feel so lonesome.

EUGENE BUNDY, the republican nominee for lieutenant governor, who is the subject of many inquiries as to who he is, was born in Henry county, this state, in 1840, and has been in the practice of the law for several years. He was elected senator for the counties of Henry, Delaware and Randolph in 1890. This was his first appearance in public life.

THREE hundred prohibitionists in convention at Indianapolis have agreed to place a ticket of their own in the field if neither of the old parties advocate their desires. The republican party has given it a start. After protesting and pledging itself to that portion of the people of the state, it deliberately cuts loose from them. Hon. Will Cumbach protested in the convention against such a measure, but he was powerless. The republican party is showing well its hypocrisy.

To-morrow occurs the democratic convention of the county. The Sentinel has referred to the importance of selecting a ticket which will be noted for its strength. There must be no mistakes made this year. There is too much at stake. Let the democracy to-morrow through its delegates put away all factional feelings, personal animosities and all things which can endanger the measure of the success of the party. Let each man vote for the man—the strongest man and the best man. Let there be concerted action in this regard and the ticket will be acceptable to the entire party.

The adoption of the unit rule by the New York convention will give the vote of that State to Cleveland, he having a majority of the delegates. This, with the action of one or two other states, will put Mr. Cleveland on rather substantial footing in the convention, but his nomination is by no means a certainty. The ticket composed of McDonald and Blount is a taking one and of its success there could be no doubt. The thinking men and leaders of the party advocate the selection of a western man for the first place.

It may now be considered that the democratic party will go into the national convention with but one object in view, that of selecting a capable man as the standard-bearer of the party. Many republicans encouraged themselves with the thought and belief that the New York state convention would bring forth only discord and would end in a general row. They counted on the returns before they came in. The convention is over and the result is harmony in the fullest sense of the term. All are working valiantly for the one common end—the election of a democratic president. This harmony will be sad news to Mr. Blaine, but the truth must be told.

The republican papers of the state have had a great deal to say in urging the renomination of Mr. Hanna for the lieutenant governorship. They insisted that the position he maintained during the last session of the legislature was right and must be vindicated by the people. In the light of recent events it seems that the people took a different view of the matter and the republican party, whether intentionally or not, endorsed the action of the last legislature. Poor Hanna! his ambition has been nipped by a very hard political frost and he can now return to private life, there to remain forever more. Will not some one tell us that he was endorsed by his party? Indiana ought to have some politician who might stand by Mr. Arthur as the pair who were endorsed by their party in convention assembled.

A SHORT CHAPTER.

The frequent mentioning of the charges against Mr. Blaine in connection with a railroad swindle will be explained by the following brief statement, for whose conciseness we are indebted to an exchange:

Blaine was speaker of the house. Lands had been granted to Arkansas for the railroad and would be forfeited and belong to the government unless congress should renew the grant. Fisher had a bill pending to renew the grant. Julian had an amendment which would kill the bill renewing the grant, and had right of precedence, and it was about to pass. Blaine suggested to the Arkansas members to object that the amendment was not germane to the original subject-matter, and those members were afraid they could not manage it. Blaine then sent his page to Logan to have him raise the point of order, which Logan at once did. Blaine as speaker sustained it and ruled out Julian's amendment and saved the Arkansas bill restoring the lands to the road. Blaine immediately advised Fisher and Caldwell (the head men in the railroad affairs) of what he had done—repeated it and intimated that he expected them to recognize the value of his services, which they did and he became the owner of a large interest in the company. Blaine's explanation was that Arkansas owned the lands and Arkansas chartered the road and congress had nothing to do with it except to correct some little mistake—it not being known when he made this explanation of the action above had. So the real fact was that as speaker he used his place to benefit the road, reported to the officers, and then became largely interested in it. In other words, cheated the government out of lands, claimed credit for it as valuable service to the railroad company, and received benefits from lands so saved to the company, and did this by prostituting his high office and power for a personal end. This is the substance of the accusation. His letters to Fisher are sorry reading in view of the facts.

THE INJUNCTION.

The City Suddenly Restrained From Purchasing the Feeder Canal—The Bond in the Case and Other Points.

This morning Christopher Hettler, through his attorney, Judge Chapin, applied in the circuit court for an injunction to restrain the city of Fort Wayne from purchasing the feeder canal. The injunction paper asks a restraining order because the purchase of the feeder canal was authorized by a resolution instead of an ordinance, because the city cannot increase its indebtedness and because the city cannot acquire the canal except by condemnation. In the last two objections legal authorities say there is nothing, but there is some question as to whether the purchase requires a motion or an ordinance; however, City Attorney Colerick says a resolution was sufficient. The case will be heard by Judge Edward O'Rourke Friday, June 27. It dissolved then the proposition of the canal owners will be accepted, and if the injunction is restrained, the council only need to introduce an ordinance to purchase the canal property. Hettler gives a bond to insure the city against any damage that may result from the stoppage of the purchase and sale of the feeder. The bond is signed by C. Hettler, H. M. Williams, John George Strudel, F. B. Figel, George Mayer, M. Bales, C. Scheifer, S. P. Barnum and Fred Schmucke.

THREE STRAIGHT.

The Fort Wayne Base Ball Club Do Up the Terre Haute Nine in Great Shape.

Yesterday was ladies' day at League park, and as is usual on that day the home team was successful. Brown and McDonough were the battery for the Fort Wayne and Murphy and Mappin held the same positions for the opposition. As will be seen the home nine played a very good game, except Drake who muffed two easy flies and was released in the evening.

The following is the official score from Louis Schroeder:

Twins servants of pain are those dreadful diseases, inflammatory rheumatism and neuralgia. They are met in every walk and station of life, and battle ordinary attempts to deal with them. In Athlophoros has been found the conquering agent. It attacks the seat of disease, which is in the blood, and drives out the foreign substances that have poisoned and inflamed it. This is the secret of the success that has everywhere attended the use of this wonderful medicine.

The Harmony Singing Society, of Muncie, will be the guests of our Fort Wayne Sengerbund next Sunday. They come here on a special excursion train accompanied by their own band.
